

Vineyard Region
McLaren Vale

PRESS REVIEWS

90 Points

Pale and dry. Streaky strawberry notes with a keen herbal edge. Fresh. Zesty. Cherried. Dry, chewy finish.

www.winefront.com.au, Campbell Mattinson, September 2012

The weather has turned and the sunshine is out so it is rose time. This little number has savoury notes with some sweetness in the mid-palate which represents the style of roses that I think are better suited to the Australian lifestyle. The wine stays well clear of those confectioned sweet fruit bomb but rather is more akin to freshly picked cherries, strawberries with spice which is so nice. The acidity of the wine is bright with some added levels of chalkiness that finish the back-palate off in style. From the get go the wine is complete in balance and in depth of flavour.

<http://gram.net.au>, Josh Tuckfield, November 2012

94 Points

Announcing one of the Jester's finest performances yet! A delightfully fragrant, tangy and refreshing rosé of pale salmon hue and flavours of rose petal, raspberry, pomegranate and guava. It finishes with excellent acid zip and softly textural structure, lingering long and clean. The Jester is more lively than you might expect for McLaren Vale, thanks to vineyards at the southern end of the Vale that enjoy the nearby cooling influence of the sea by day and cool breezes from the hills by night.

Wine Taste Weekly; Edition 98, Tyson Stelzer, December 2012

93* Points (star for value)

James Halliday Australian Wine Companion 2014, July 2013