Matthew Jukes 100 Best Australian Wines 2016

93 POINTS

The fruit is solid, the presentation is polished, the tannin is set just right. This is nicely done. It tastes of plum, blackberry, dark chocolate and smoked cedar wood, and it has both ripeness and balance down pat.

James Halliday Aust. Wine Companion 2017, James Halliday, August 2016

SILVER MEDAL

With team leader Andrea Briccarello finding 'savoury, fruity style with plenty of blackberry and blueberry notes', Andre Luis Martins of The Cavalry and Guards Club also noted 'intense baked fruit, cassis, spice and earthy body'.

Winestate Magazine, December 2016

This Shiraz from Australia's McLaren Vale delivers plush, ripe fruit from start to finish, but it's anything but a fruit-bomb. There's structure and complexity here, together with the well calibrated, clean acidity and easy-going tannins. It's a natural for grilled red meats.
